ANNUAL MEETING OF SUNDAY SCHOOLS IS GREAT SUCCESS

Mason County Sunday School Association Re-elects Old Officers At Wednesday Afternoon's Meeting.

The convention of Mason county's Sunday schools held Tuesday evening at Third Street M. E. church, and Wednesday at Washington in the high school building, was about the most successful ever held by the Mason County Association. The attendance was excellent, there being fully 250 at Wednesday's sessions. The only hitch too the whole program was the inability of Mr. Colvin to come on account of the critical illness of his father. When this word came to the executive committee Tuesday they at once re-adjusted the program so that it would come as near as possible filling the big gap made by Mr. Colvin's absence.

The opening session Tuesday evening was addressed by Rev. Fred Riley, of Aberdeen, and W. J. Vaughn, representing the State Association. Both addresses were very applicable to the urgent work now before the Sunday school world.

Wednesday's morning session opened with devotionals conducted by Rev. A. H. Chapin, pastor of the Washington Presbyterian church. Following the devotionals the convention was greatly favored with a Gospel message in song in the form of a solo "Tell Me the Story of Jesus" by Rev. Rayl, new pastor of the Little Brick M. E. Church, South. Rev. Rayl has a splendid voice and his coming to Maysville is heartily welcomed by our church people.

The regular business of the convention was next in order. The minutes of the last convention and reports of the various officers were given. These reports told in plain language the work that Mason county's organization has been doing. It also showed that the officers of the association are all alive to their tasks. A high compliment was paid by Mr. Vaughn to the minutes and report of the association's efficient secretary, Mrs. J. H. Wells.

He said it was the best report of any convention he had heard in Kentucky. The message of the morning was then given by Mr. Vaughn who spoke on the "Objectives of the Sunday School Association." The figures and facts presented of conditions obtaining in some counties of Kentucky as regards religion and Sunday schools were startling. He told the convention of the enormity of the work before the association and the urgent need of funds to place more men in these needy fields. Mason county is always prompt with her apportionment, practically every school in the county coming forward with generous offerings from their Go-To-Sunday-School-Way collections. To such a county as Mason comes the opportunity to help the needy counties of our own beloved commonwealth. The appeal was not in vain, an offering of $58.46 being made by the convention. Mr. Vaughn's appeal for subscribers to the Kentucky Sunday School Report was rewarded by thirty persons subscribing. The county organization must bring the report list up to 100 in order to secure the service point so coveted by the association. This will be done shortly.

Committees on nominations and resolutions were appointed, a verse of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" was sung and the convention adjourned for noon lunch. The local committee from the Washington churches surely had ideal arrangements made for the whole convention but nothing did they so excel as in the serving of the noon luncheon. The supply was bountiful, the quality and variety well suited to the most fastidious, and the service just such as has ever made Kentucky hospitality famous. There was a big plenty for everybody and another convention equally as big. Washington is a good place to go.

Promptly at 1:30 Rev. D. W. Nicholas of the Washington Christian church took charge and conducted devotionals. Rev. Rayl again delighted the audience with a solo.

Convention business began with reports of committees. The nominating committee placed in nomination the following who upon motion were unanimously elected as officers for the coming year:

President—J. H. Richardson.
Vice President—Miss Ella F. Wallace.

Secretary and Treasurer—Mrs. J. H. Wells.

Children's Division Supt.—Mrs. C. N. Bollinger.

Young People's Supt.—Miss Mary Wood.

Adult Division Supt.—Geo. H. Scott.

Administration Supt.—Elmer T. Kirk.

Supt. Religious Education—Prof. H. S. Calkins.

Home Department Supt.—Mrs. W. F. Steele.

Kentucky Sunday School Reporter Representative—Geo. H. Frank.

The committee on resolutions gave emphatic appreciation of the convention for the royal way the Washington people provided entertainment. A strong and highly complimentary resolution thanking Maysville's newspapers for their very generous co-operation in the work by giving such prominence to the attendance reports as well as the publicity used in boosting all movements for the betterment of our Sunday schools. Too much credit could not be given the newspapers for undoubtedly much of the success of Mason county's Sunday school is due to the publicity given the work. The work of the officers was commended and an appreciation of the services rendered by the visit of Mr. Vaughn was made. The trustees of the Washington Consolidated Schools were given a special vote of thanks for giving the use of the splendid building in which to hold the convention.

Of the 250 present at the convention fifteen were pastors, eleven superintendents, ten other officers and thirty teachers. There were representatives from 30 of the 46 schools present. Thirty-seven schools have paid their part to the county work. In order to make the county 100 per cent. reports and offerings must be made by every school. This the association expects to secure before the time of the state convention.

Rev. W. S. Peters, pastor of Third street M. E. church, and Rev. Riley of Aberdeen, were called upon to take the place of Mr. Colvin on the afternoon program. And right well did they perform their task. The earnestness of their messages — the need of just the gospel they gave the convention — the enthusiasm with which their talks were received — all went to show that the committee made no mistaken in putting these two speakers forward. The association is especially grateful to Rev. Riley for relieving them of a very embarrassing situation for his address was given on short notice as he had already appeared once upon the convention program.

A period of time was given to an open discussion of Sunday school problems. This discussion proved very interesting and helpful. It also brought out some of the more serious situations confronting leaders in the training of the young life of our country. The conversation was edited by the very practical remarks made during the discussion by Dr. Barbour, Revs. Davis, Mullen, Elmer Kirk Mrs. C. N. Bollinger, Mrs. R. P. Moody and others. The hour for the closing of the convention came all too soon. It was so good to fellowship with the folks that all were loathe to come to the closing song. But all good times such as county convention must have a terminal point, so when the hour neared 4 p. m. "Onward Christian Soldiers" was sung and Rev. Davis gave the closing prayer and benediction. Then the large company went out to all parts of Mason county fired with a new determination to work harder than ever to build God's Kingdom by teaching His Word.

FALL FROM TREE IS FATAL TO COLORED MAN

Farm Hand Falls From Cherry Tree And Dies From Internal Injuries.

The Bracken Chronicle says: Monday afternoon, June 5, Everett Lang, colored, while picking cherries on what is known as the W. J. Hook farm, near the Dutch Ridge pike, fell from the tree and received internal injuries which caused his death at 10:30 Tuesday morning. Everett fell a distance of about 15 feet, alighting on a bucket, and it is believed that his fatal injuries were caused when he struck the bucket.

Everett was about 60 years old. He was honest and reliable; hardworking and industrious and had the respect of everyone. He had lived in Augusta for many years. Besides his wife, three sons, John, Will and Joy, and one daughter, Mrs. Walter Boyd, survive him, as well as several step-children. Funeral services will be conducted at St. Paul church Thursday.

LEE-WILLET

Mrs. Anna C. Lee, of this city, and Mr. A. H. Willett, of Lexington, were quietly married Thursday afternoon at the home of the bride's daughter, Mrs. Jane Moses in Riverview Terrace by Dr. John Barbour, pastor of the Presbyterian church.

The bride is very popular in a large circle of friends. She has spent her entire life in Maysville and Mason county.

The groom is a very prominent resident of Lexington and a leader in matters financial in Central Kentucky.

Following the wedding a reception was held. Mr. and Mrs. Willett will reside in Lexington and they carry to their home many good wishes of their hosts of Maysville and Mason county friends.

FINED FOR SPEEDING.

Hord McKee, colored, auto driver of Flemingsburg, was fined $10 and costs in the local police court Thursday morning on a charge of exceeding the speed limit. McKee was arrested Wednesday night by officers when he is alleged to have been driving through the down-town business district at a very rapid rate of speed.

CLUB USED BY DEPUTY SHERIFF ON ANGRY NEGRO

Deputy Sheriff Applegate Brings Angry and Defiant Negro From Darkened House With a Healthy Club.

Deputy Sheriff Elmer Applegate demonstrated his ability as an officer of the law and probably proved to all that he is not to tolerate defiance of his orders when he arrested Horace Bolden at the home of his son, Charles Bolden, at Mayslick.

The senior Bolden is reported to have been a bad man in the Mayslick neighborhood years ago but for several years he has been in the mining district of West Virginia. He returned here about a month ago and on Wednesday evening terrorized the Mayslick neighborhood by driving his son and family from their own home.

Deputy Sheriff Applegate was summoned and the officer endeavored to settle the differences between Bolden and his son but the old man wanted to fight. The officer finally informed the old man to get ready to go to the Maysville jail, whereupon the angry man drew a large deer-foot clasp knife and blowing out the light in the house defied the officer to come in and get him. Supplying himself with a part of a handle to a post-hole digger, Sheriff Applegate went into the darkened room and demanded Bolden to surrender himself. He started at the officer with the open knife but was felled with the club. Before the negro would drop the knife it became necessary for Mr. Applegate to knock him down several times, cutting rather deep gashes on his head.

The officer delivered his man to the local jail and medical attention was given him. He will be given a hearing before 'Squire Fred Bauer Friday afternoon.

TO RETURN MAN ON DEPORTATION CHARGE.

Sheriff C. M. Devore and Deputy Sheriff C. P. Rasp motored to Georgetown, Ohio, Thursday to return Lee McElfresh under arrest at the Brown county capital on a bench warrant issued in the Mason Circuit Court following the finding of an indictment charging him with desertion. McElfresh will be returned Thursday afternoon.

THURSDAY'S GAME WITH LEXINGTON POSTPONED

Battle With Studebakers Was Passed Up Until Friday Because of Wet Diamond.

A shower that fell continuously for more than an hour about noon Thursday made it necessary for the management of the local club to call off the Cardinal-Studebaker game scheduled for Thursday. This was quite a disappointment to a world of fans who planned to take in the contest between the most evenly matched clubs of the circuit and help the Cards initiate their new home on the avenue with a victory. However, their expectations will be fulfilled just twentyfour hours later when the battle of the league superiors will take place, the first game to be played in the new park.

The Studes will choose between Parks and Monhollen for slab duty and Manager Bosken will either give the call to Shaw or take up the duties himself. Play as usual at 3 o'clock.

SUIT IS EXPECTED TO TEST LEGALITY OF REGISTRATION.

Frankfort, Ky., June 7. — A suit to test the constitutionality of the Smith-Minor general registration law is expected to be started in the Franklin Circuit Court within a few days, it was learned here today.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington, June 7. — (Special Correspondence) — "It is evident that throughout the world steps have been taken to adjust customs rates and regulations to post war conditions, and that these adjustments have been made on a wider scale and with less deliberation than in the United States," declared Hon. Thomas O. Marvin, the Chairman of the U. S. Tariff Commission in an address delivered to the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association in Washington, recently. Mr. Marvin called attention to the tariff bill which passed the House of Representatives July 21, 1921, and was reported to the Senate April 11, 1922, as an evidence of the deliberation which the Republican Congress has been giving to this great subject, but is obvious that through the obstructionist tactics of the Democrats in the Senate the deliberation has degenerated into a filibuster.

Mr. Marvin said that the war so strongly impressed upon the statesmen of the world the close relation between industrial strength and national security that practically all of the post-war tariff legislation has reflected an intent to develop domestic industries and strengthen economic defense. This reason alone is sufficient for our insuring national independence in production since almost every article which enters into human consumption is needed in case of war.

The speaker cited the safeguarding of industries act of Great Britain which imposes a duty of 33 1/2 per cent. on upwards of 6,000 articles of trade, and provides a dumping clause on imports sold below cost in the country of origin. This same tendency has been manifested in legislation adopted by the British dominions. In India an act effective March 1, 1922, makes rates three times as high as in 1916. Australia has a protective tariff which favors British goods. Canadian has made tariff adjustments to conform to post-war conditions. South Africa has done likewise. The policy of imperial preferences designed by A. Bonar Law British statesman, along about 1917, has been put into actual practice in every British-controlled country.

France has increased her tariff duties by a system of co-efficients, some of the pre-war rates being doubled and others increased from five to ten times. Belgium has increased her tariff rates and has doubled the duties on goods coming from Germany, the decrease having been extended to other countries whose currencies have depreciated relative to that of Belgium.

Italy adopted a new general tariff in June, 1921, and the request of the American Ambassador for a modification of the duties on typewriters was curtly refused. With reference to the duties on products of mechanical industries, it was stated that the new Italian tariff is intended to remedy the condition of absolute inferiority in which such industries find themselves.

Spain has made drastic tariff changes, a preamble to the Royal Decree of June 3, 1921, stating it was "the intention of the Spanish government to accord to Spanish industry a degree of protection as high as is compatible with other Spanish interests."

Japan has an emergency tariff in force pending a general revision. "Such changes as were made in the Japanese tariff are designed to furnish additional safeguards for Japanese industries, to protect new industries and to prevent dumping."

The Central European countries have adopted customs provisions to restrict importations, and in April last Germany placed on the dutiable list many food articles.

It is apparent that these revisions were not retaliatory measures against the United States, which is still debating its new tariff bill.

MAN AND WIFE FATALLY SHOT BY THREE BURGLARS.

Louisville. — Failure to surrender a grocer at Worthington, W. Va., of which they had charge, led to a battle with burglars which will cost the lives of Clarence O. McVey, former camp exchange officer at Camp Zachary Taylor, and Mrs. McVey. Mrs. McVey was wounded eleven times, and her husband four, according to word received here by Leslie L. Creasy, president of the Creasy Corporation, by which McVey is employed. Mr. and Mrs. McVey were in the store when three men entered. McVey obtained his shotgun and the battle started. Mrs. McVey fell after the first bullet struck her. McVey, wounded four times, remained on his feet. He aimed his shotgun, firing at one of the bandits. A trail of blood leading from the store is evidence his shot went true. McVey fell as the men escaped. One man is under arrest.

CHURCH CELEBRATES FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY.

Louisville. — Services commemorating the foundation of the First Lutheran church, Broadway, fifty years ago on Pentecost were held. In a sermon, Dr. S. S. Witz, former pastor of the church, outlined the activities carried on by the congregation since its foundation. "The church," he said, "has become a power for civic improvement, not through entering into politics, but through a forceful impression of the Gospel on the community."

And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the county as a whole.

POINCARÉ, GEORGE AND SOVIET ARMY.

The crafty diplomacy of Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain is explicated in an exceptionally clear manner in the statesman's remarks since the close of the Geneva conference. Mr. George has warned Europe of the menace of the Red Army of 1,500,000 men, and he has told Russia that the soviet must adopt the code of honor of all European nations.

President Poincaré of France replies that Continental Europe does not fear Trotsky's army. He gives three reasons to support his statement: First, he does not believe the Red army is as big as it is said to be; second, the soviet could not support the army if it went beyond the Russian boundary, and third, the arm is needed so much in Russia that the soviet would not dare to let the troops march forth. In brief, Poincaré contends that the Red Army is the soviet police force.

It is well that Mr. George's diplomatic strategy failed with the United States and France. Trotsky and his soldiers are not starving; nor are they working. If Russia could have secured recognition and a large loan, it could have supported the Trotsky Reds indefinitely, and it is the Red Army that is imposing communism on Russia. The time is near at hand when Lenin will want money more than 1,500,000 Red soldiers.

HIGHER PRICES AND LOWER WAGES.

Two tendencies that could somewhat retary the great business revival which is now going forward rapidly are large increases in construction prices and strenuous resistance to wage reductions. Excessive rise in prices would temporarily check building after several months, while opposition to necessary wage reductions would, if it should develop into strikes, have serious consequences.

Business competition is to be keener for many years than ever before, and this fact points to comparatively low prices and wage levels.

Pinchot has the satisfaction of having paid ninety per cent. of his campaign expenses from his own funds. Though the nomination cost a goodly sum, he is under no obligations to large contributors.

Keep The Knocks Out Of Your Engine

"Better Stick To The Standard"

Nothing causes quicker depreciation in your motor than the hammer-like knocks caused by "pre-ignition" of heavy carbon deposits in the combustion chambers; and the thumping and pounding of worn wrist pins and loose crank shaft bearings. It is hard on the nerves, as well as the car.

These knocks are but the penalty you are called upon to pay for using too little oil in your crank case, or an oil that is low in quality and of an incorrect "body" for that particular motor. The use of the correct grade of Stanocola Polarine will reduce to a minimum carbon deposits and the wear and tear of friction, and keep out the destructive knocks. Consult the Stanocola Chart.

His grave is the scene of a lovely ceremony every year at Christmas, when hundreds of children and adults hold service in the church across the street and then cross Broadway to the grave, each child carrying a lighted candle. This ceremony will be held at the shrine on future Christmas days.

McIntyre and Heath, veterans of blackface, are back on Broadway. They have opened in "Red Pepper," at the Shubert Theater. There is good comedy, and high pressure dancing and singing by an exceedingly animated chorus. But James McIntyre and Thomas Heath are, of course, pretty nearly the whole show, as they deserve to be, because they are real comedians.

We always used to expect property to fall in value during lean years. A good many of us would call these last three years pretty lean and at times pretty worrisome, from a financial and industrial standpoint. Yet in one business district, "the heart of New York," as it is called, land values have almost doubled in those same three years. That is the district bounded by Forty-second and Fifty-ninth streets and by Broadway and Fifth Avenue. The building of three twenty-story buildings in the upper part of the region during that time is significant of the activity there. The value of property in this "heart" is indicated by the fact that the site for Backache pains often come from weak kidneys.

"I would save much needless woe," Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.

Read what a Maysville citizen says: Mrs. William Farley, 128 East Second street, says: "Not long ago I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they did me a world of good. I am pleased to recommend them. My back hurt nearly all the time and I couldn't do my washing on account of the misery in my back. I couldn't sleep at night and mornings I could get up feeling all right. I would be dizzy and could see black specks before my eyes. My kidneys didn't act regularly and in other ways showed signs of disorder. My hands and arms would get numb and cold. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills highly advertised so I went to Wood & Son's Drug Store and got a box. I began using them and was soon rid of the trouble."

Price 50 cents, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Farley had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

It covers the block bounded by Broadway and Seventh avenues and 55th and 56th streets, and is indicative of the preciousness of feet of ground in that whole district.

Sixty thousand dollars for a string of amber beads! That is what a jeweler paid a New York woman of moderate circumstances the other day. Paid it voluntarily, too. She had bought the beads in China for ten dollars, not because she considered them a bargain, but only because they were pretty. The other day, she decided to have them restrung and took them into a small neighborhood jewelry shop. "Would you care to sell these?" the proprietor asked, after looking them over. No, she thought not, but what would he pay. "Twenty thousand dollars," he said, never batting an eyelash. It speaks for the poise of our American women that she neither fainted nor gasped. "I'll think it over," she replied calmly and walked out. It is speaking mildly to say, however, that her curiosity was piqued. If there was such a sudden and amazing market for amber beads, it would be interesting to learn if it had reached any other places. Tiffany's seemed a fair trial, so there she hastened. Would they like to buy them? A short inspection, and she was offered FORTY thousand by this conservative and nover hysteric concern. It was too much, so she asked them right out for the reason. "I am sorry but I can't tell you," was the still more confusing reply. By this time, she was determined to find a shop that was communicative as well as generous. The next one proved both. "Sixty thousand," was the quotation. Whereupon she offered the beads in exchange for $60,000 AND an explanation. When the sale was completed, he told her. "You can't see with a naked eye," the jeweler said, "but under the magnifying glass, there is a distinct J and N carved on every bead. The French government has offered a reward of $100,000 for this string. It was stolen years ago, and it was originally the property of Josephine Bonaparte, a gift from Napoleon. I have made $40,000 out of this transaction."

Mrs. Sherman Helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lake, Michigan. — "About one year ago I suffered with irregularities and a weakness and at times was obliged to stay off my feet. I doctored with our family physician and he finally said he could not understand my case, so I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After I had taken the first bottle I could see that I was getting better. I took several bottles of the Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and I am entirely cured of my ailments. You may publish this letter if you wish." — Mrs. MARY SHERMAN, Route 2, Lake, Mich.

There is one fact women should consider and that is this. Women suffer from irregularities and various forms of weakness. They try this and that doctor, as well as different medicines. Finally they take Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound, and Mrs. Sherman's experience is simply another case showing the merit of this well-known medicine.

If your family physician fails to help you and the same old troubles persist, why isn't it reasonable to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

BURLEY TOBACCO COSTS 32.6 CENTS POUND TO PRODUCE

Experiments on 74 Farms in Kentucky Burley Section Shows the Producer's Cost Is High.

Washington, D. C., June 8. — The average cost of producing Burley tobacco on 74 farms in the Burley district of Kentucky was 32.6 cents a pound in 1920 as compared with an average of 25.8 cents in 1919. The average cost of producing dark fire-cured tobacco on fifty farms in the dark tobacco area of Kentucky was 14.9 cents a pound in 1920 as compared with 17.2 cents in 1919, and was less than one-half the cost of producing Burley. These figures are disclosed in a cost-of-production study made by the College of Agriculture of the University of Kentucky and the United States Department of Agriculture under a co-operative arrangement. Figures for 1921 are now being tabulated.

The yield per acre on the seventy-four Burley farms ranged from 378 pounds to 1,492 pounds with an average of 907.86 pounds. The cost per acre ranged from $160.20 to $493.60 with an average of $295.73. The cost per pound ranged from 20 cents to 66 cents. Approximately eighty per cent. of the tobacco was produced at 37 cents a pound or less. The average yield in 1919 was 1,492 pounds. The light weight of the 1920 crop is attributed to the unusual weather conditions prevailing during the growing season.

In the Burley district an acre of tobacco required an average of 32.4 days of man labor and 9.38 days of horse labor. Of the total cost, man labor constituted 38.22 per cent., land rent 36.07 per cent., barns and sticks 11.65 per cent., horse labor 6.96 per cent., insurance 3.72 per cent., and machinery .76 per cent. Not including land rent as a cost, man and horse labor constituted 70.66 per cent., and the other items 29.34 per cent.

The yield per acre on the fifty dark fire-cured farms ranged from 275.2 pounds to 1,603.4 pounds with an average of 854.4 pounds. The cost per acre ranged from $77.61 to $261.04 with an average cost of $127.12. The cost per pound ranged from nine cents to 37.3 cents. Approximately sixty per cent. of the tobacco was produced at fifteen cents a pound or less.

In the dark tobacco area an acre of tobacco required 24.8 days of man labor and 8.4 days of horse labor. Of the total cost, man labor constituted approximately 50 per cent. horse labor 14 per cent., land rent 13½ per cent., barns and sticks seven per cent., insurance 4.9 per cent., and other items about 10½ per cent. Excluding land rent as a cost, man and horse labor totaled approximately seventy-five per cent. of the total cost.

THE new low mark of $10.90 for the 30 x 3½ size "Usco" created something of a sensation. Naturally, the first impulsive remark was on the "wonderful price."

Even more to the point are the comments of today.

People are getting more used to the $10.90 price—but the "Usco" value is still a cause for wonder.

With thousands of $10.90 "Usco's" running today, every locality has had a chance to check up on the surprising tire value.

Let all these "Usco" Tires now serving their owners so well remind you of this—

Whatever the price of "Usco," it has got to deliver big value because it has always done so.
